Hello there, and welcome to your yearbook!

As the title of the book suggests, we are going to give you a behind the scenes look at Emerson College from 2001 to 2002. As you know, it is a hands-on school where students can, and do, get involved in tons of everything!

This book is better than any Hollywood studio tour because we are going to bring you, not quite virtually, on a wild and crazy tour. We can't hardly wait for you to meet the producers and stuntmen. We'll bring you right to all the different locations and show you directors' cuts. I won't even get into the cast of characters you'll find! But the biggest reason that this is better than any studio tour is because this book is yours!

It is our hope that when you look at this book, you'll laugh and you'll cry and everything in between. We hope that for each of you there will be at least one picture that you connect to, whether it is a candid or a person. A yearbook is supposed to capture the year as it happened...well, we went behind the scenes and tried to capture the years as they happened. Now we invite you behind the scenes with us. And please, no touching.

On Location

Our first stop on this wondrous tour is "On Location"-otherwise known as student living. This is where half the fun and action takes place! You'll see an overview of our Emerson Residence Halls, some hot off-campus sights, the L.A. and Castle campuses, the Student Union, and the Cultural Center (yes some students do live at the latter two places). These are essential sets because if we crazy cast members didn't have a place to lay our heads or plan our wacky events - well then would anything ever get done?! Not likely!

BOSTON COMMON

FOUNDED 1634

100 Beacon

Across campus, a ten story residence hall houses two hundred twenty five students at 100 Beacon Street. 100 provides a great and intimate atmosphere. Compared to the crowds in front of the Little Building, 100 Beacon tends to be more chill and less chaotic. It also offers a variety of theme floors.

Facing the Boston Public Garden lies a ten story hall which houses approximately one hundred fifty students. Residents share lounges, kitchen facilities, and common or semi-private baths. This hall includes a variety of themed housing options

6 Arlington

132/4 Beacon

This Back Bay brownstone is Emerson's smallest residence hall, housing approximately seventy-five students. Residents share common area baths, lounges, and kitchen facilities. Laundry facilities are located in the basement. The entire hall is designated as a quiet study area, and also has several single gender floors.

80 Boylston

The Little Building, more commonly known as the LB, is the place that seven hundred fifty students call home each year. Students of all years live in the Little Building, and you can find just about anyone there. They might be in the C-store, the Athletics Office, Public Safety, Cabaret, the Bookstore, or the Dining Hall. The sure place to find someone that you know is right in front of the LB.

Off Campus

More than half the student body lives off campus, braving the elements (rain, snow, the B-Line) to make it to class, on time being the objective, but getting there at all is always a plus. I've heard that once you've left the res halls (if you were ever there at all) there is no turning back. Mike here is appalled that people even want to live in the residence halls! It's not all that bad...

L.A.

The Los Angeles program is a great opportunity for students to experience the "real world" without actually being in it, yet. It's like slowly getting into the swimming pool...dip a toe, then your foot, and you just slowly ease yourself in. At the L.A. campus students take classes and do an internship in their field of study. It's a good chance to test out L.A. to find out if it's for you, 'cause trust me, it ain't for everyone (you East coast girls know what I am talking about)! Whichever coast you choose, it's an unreal time and great for the resume.

The Castle

The Kasteel Well in the Netherlands is the other external program offered by Emerson. Students spend the semester taking classes in the Netherlands and traveling all around Europe experiencing adventure after adventure. They get to live in an actual castle, moat and all! Does it get any better than that?! I wouldn't imagine so. I am surprised students actually return. If I went, I doubt that I'd be able to bring myself to board the plane home.

CULTURAL CENTER, STUDENT

The Cultural Center is a place for everyone to go and celebrate the different cultures here at Emerson and all around the world. It's a comfy place to kick back and brush up on your knowledge or hang out. You can also find out information about Emerson's AHANA organizations such as E.B.O.N.I., A.S.I.A. and A.M.I.G.O.S..

The Student Life staff helps to advise some of the bigger events that happen at Emerson as well as all of the organizations. They also make sure all aspects of student life run smoothly. Thanks guys!

The Staff: Hina Siddiq, Ama Nyamekye, Diana Dilger, Crystal Tillman, Elaine Santoyo, Antoinette Carr.

LIFE, & THE STUDENT UNION

The Student Union is a place for students to hold organizational meetings, activities and just hang out. There is always someone at the desk to help you out. The Union houses the Student Activities and Student Life offices as well as Housing and Residence Life and the Dean of Students Office. There's always something going on so stop by to say hi or check up on the latest news on a few of the clubs and organizations.

Producers

Oh the producers! Where would we be without them?! The Faculty play an enormous role in life at Emerson. They sure do have a producers job! They make sure everything is set for us when we arrive, share their knowledge, skills and insights, delegate responsibilities, and are there to help us troubleshoot when there is a problem. Sometimes it can be a thankless job, but we appreciate it, isn't that right folks?! C'mon, can I get a big "THANK YOU!" for our wonderful faculty!

Administration

Emerson College was founded in 1880 by Charles Wesley Emerson.

The word communication comes from the same Latin roots as does the word community. This connection underlies every aspect of the Department of Communication. Whether examining past communities in history courses, analyzing the nature of society in political science and sociology classes, or pondering communal ideas from the perspective of philosophy and religion, our subject is human beings and their roles in various communities.

Stunt Doubles

Let's face it, we all aren't in the greatest shape that we'd like to be in, but these guys (and gals) are! It's okay to be a little envious, just don't let it get too out of hand. These athletes put in a lot of work from start to finish. Practice, practice, practice, that is what sports is all about. Since we all can't be great at all that is athletic we have to send in a few good men to represent us. I mean, if we could all be like Jackie Chan, well then we'd put the man out of his career!

Crew Call

It is so easy to get involved 'round these parts! With clubs and organizations the whole crew is represented. From your p.a.'s to key grips to directors and everything in between, there is definitely a place for anyone and everyone. There are also clubs and orgs for just about everyone! If you can imagine it, chance are Emerson students have put it into play. Comedy, photography, literary, Greek life, performance, and the list goes on and on. The amount of organizations on the campus is out of sight. Try not to be too impresses with the amount of activity that goes on here.

The Students Government Association was formed to "establish and effective student government, represent student interests, establish and facilitate all student organizations, act as a liaison between the student body, the administration, and the Board of Trustees, and promote and protect the rights of the students..." In coordination with the Office of Dean of Students, the SGA allocates and monitors funds to student organizations and plans and executes student activities and programs for the campus. It also actively states the needs and protects the rights of the student body. The SGA is comprised of Senators from each school, Commissioners from special interest areas (i.e. Athletics, Spiritual Life) and class officers. Business is conducted on a weekly basis and all are welcome to attend.

CLASS OF 2005

After spending a semester participating in Freshmen Class Council Hadly Klein (President), Park Cofield (V.President), Melissa Gaynor (Secretary), Kristin Belcher (Treasurer) and Katie Oliveri (Senator) were elected into office. Here i present you with the hard working staff of this lovely yearbook you are flipping through. # PRICE

Ah, Senior Week. Our last chance to let our hair down and party hard as Emerson College Undergrads. So maybe it wasn't completely priceless, but your class officers worked extra hard to keep the cost to a bare minimum and at a collective $25 it was the lowest senior week has seen in some time. Please take a few moments to enjoy a few highlights and let the memories come flowing back of how you spent your last week as a senior in college.

The first Student Union Day was so successful the student life staff planned another one! The festivities included music, the balloon man, cotton candy (and lots of it!) as well as tons of other yummy food, caricature artists, a massage therapist, carnival games, tarot card and palm readings and prizes!

Director's Cut

All the hard work that is put into clubs and organizations is ultimately practice for Emerson's main events. The skills learned from being involved in the smaller activities and events primes the directors to take on the huge job of planning and executing Orientation, Family Weekend, Hand Me Down Night, Emerson Stage, and the EVVY's. You'll see that there is a core group of students that like to have their hands in all of it. The usual suspects can be found on at least two committees on any given day. These are their cuts and they are proud of them, so let us practice our "oooh's" and "aaah's" before we head on into admire their work.

Orientation 2001!!!

Oh glorious Orientation! Orientation is an event for students, by students. The Core Staff (left) spend all summer long planning away for this event.

(Right) Here we have the senior Orientation Crew, or 3rd year O.L.'s. We are hardcore, what else can be said?

(Above) Adrienne is "Breaking On Through To The Other Side" as metal goddess Lita Ford. If you've never heard of her that's because she's been in hiding and only came out when Rock n' Roll was threatened at Emerson College.

Highlights from last year...

Family Weekend

On the date

emerson college

2001

october 26-28
family weekend

Let's face it, we love to have family come visit because we always harbor that hope that maybe, just maybe, they will have food and/or money for us! Family Weekend is a chance for us to set aside some time to visit with the ones we love and who love us. It's nice to take the time out of our busy schedules and show off our new (or not so new) home. Again, a lot of hard work and long hours goes into the planning of this weekend-long event.

Free for the Weekend

January 31 to February 3, 2002

On this weekend students throughout the Emerson community pledged to be substance free. Free for the Weekend was started to bring awareness to the dangers of drugs and alcohol. Activities were planned throughout the weekend for the students to enjoy. Some of these activities included a program with Welcome Baby! where students sewed mittens for infants, a game of ultimate frisbee, and a dessert reception.

This was also the weekend that the New England Patriots won the Superbowl which was a great cause of celebration in Boston. Although Emerson students did not plan this event, we at the Emersonian felt it should be included nonetheless. So here are some highlights from Free for the Weekend and the parade in honor of the Pats' Super Bowl victory!

Hand Me Down Night is an evening where Emerson recognizes the accomplishments and dedication of individuals in the Community. The night starts with a sit down dinner, then the handing down of officers, a speciality awards ceremony -where awards such as Advisor of the Year (go Sharon!), Organization of the Year and Student leader of the year are presented and last but not least everyone hits the dance floor! If nothing else it's a great excuse to get all glammed out.

Feature Presentation

And now...Our feature presentation!!!! We have arrived! We have reached the end of our tour and it is with great pleasure that we introduce you to the seniors that you have seen and heard so much about this far. These are those crazy characters that have worked so long and (sometimes not) so hard to get to where they are now. In this last section we not only highlight the seniors, but those events that stood out the most in our minds like Senior Week (which one could think of as a week-long cast party) and, of course, GRADUATION! So bust out those tissues folks, it's going to be a bittersweet goodbye.

In memory of Peter Corea

"I loved the way he ran class; he was all about the students getting their own work done. He wasn't the kind of teacher who would sit there and tell you when assignments were due. He left the power in the student's hands." -Kimberly Rossi

The Emerson community was saddened to learn of the death of a professor whose greatest hope was to teach until the end of his life. Peter Corea, a psychology professor at Emerson for thirty-seven years, passed away Thanksgiving morning due to congestive heart failure at the age of seventy-seven. Corea rarely spoke about his illness in class aside from the one story he told almost all his students.

"He told the story of how doctors told him he was supposed to die about fifteen years ago," Rossi said. "He was very proud of that story."

Corea left the Emerson community as he had always hoped to--pursuing his love for the students he taught. He will be missed greatly.

Casino Night 2

Casino night was started last year by the Student Government Association. It is a night of "gambling", prizes, music and FUN! This year among the prizes that were raffled off were a DVD player, a VCR, a stereo, Harry Potter books, a huge stuffed frog and a Bedazzler. There is a picture of a very excited me on the opposite page winning the said Bedazzler making my four years worth here worth every minute.

Senior Week Schedule

Monday: Commencement Rehearsal, class picture and Final Premiere

Tuesday: Clambake and Red Sox game

Wednesday: Frank Santos the R-Rated Hypnotist

Thursday: Boat Cruise

Friday: Crossroads

A black and white photograph of a graduate in a gown and cap, captured in a dynamic pose as if dancing or celebrating. The graduate is holding a diploma or book. In the background, a large sign reads "PERSON COLLEGE".

Here it is, the final and possibly most significant event of your time at Emerson. Congratulations, we made it! There was lots of hard work and dedication put forth for that little piece of paper that gives us all so much power. Commencement speaker, Sherry Lansing, gave us some good pointers on how to put that power to good use, hope you were taking note!

A collage of various magazine covers, including 'Rolling Stone', 'The New Yorker', 'Time', 'Playboy', and 'The New York Times', arranged in a layered, overlapping fashion. The covers are tilted and layered, creating a sense of depth and a mix of media. The 'Rolling Stone' cover at the top features the word 'ROLLING' in large letters. Below it, 'The New Yorker' and 'Time' are visible. On the left, 'Playboy' and 'The New York Times' are partially seen. The collage is set against a dark, textured background.

Salutarian Liz

congratulations
ladies!

(Above Left) "i've gotta go, I still need to get these tickets to the right people and then line up."

(Above) "About how much longer until they call my name...?"

(Right) More happy graduates. (who wouldn't be happy to have a photo-op with horse and ranger?)

The Credits

Well looks like we've made it to the final stop of our tour! Making it through college is not always an easy task, but it always helps to have the support and love of our families and friends. They help us through our good days, our bad days and those strange days - always giving us that extra push we need. So get ready to view more (embarrassing) baby pictures of the characters we call seniors as some of their families and friends give credit where credit is due.

Congratulations, Michael!

You grew up fast and accomplished
so much along the way.

Cheer up, for the world is young!
No chance? Why, the world is just eager
For things that you ought to create;
Its store of true wealth is still meager,
Its needs are incessant and great;
It yearns for more power and beauty,
More laughter and love and romance;
More loyalty, labor, and duty;
For the best jobs haven't been started,
The best work hasn't been done.

— Berton Braley

With love, Dad
and all those who love you in New York and Pennsylvania.

THE EMERSONIAN
CONGRATULATES THE
CLASS OF 2002!

Well here we are, yes the end, but not so fast! I do, of course, have a few closing remarks...

I have thought and thought about all the things that I could write in this concluding little note I get to write and now that it is time my mind is drawing blanks. It is an awesome feeling to have completed this book. Taking on the responsibility of the yearbook was a very daunting task, but it has been rewarding (as well as taxing and time consuming). It gave me the chance to practice my leadership skills and work with some really great people. I would like to take a moment to everyone who helped make this book happen. All of you who submitted pictures ThankYouThankYouThankYou! Stephanie Chelf at the Berkeley Beacon I am forever grateful for your help with the Athletics section, we have most of what we do because of it so Thanks! Sharon for being the best advisor in the whole wide world! You were there to guide me but gave me all the freedom in the world. You guys should drop Sharon an email as soon as you get your Book, because if it weren't for her, it probaby wouldn't have happened. And of course my wonderful staff. Thank you guys for making this job that much easier. And a very special Thank You to the Lay-Out Queen, Ashley who was there with me every deadline until they were kicking us out of the Union. Good Luck next year!

Now enough of all of that! I feel like I'm giving an acceptance speech... "and the Editor of the Year goes to... Charisma!" "Oh my goodness! I wasn't expecting this!" *sniffsniiff* "I would like to Thank..."

I hope you enjoyed your tour through the year(s). We did what we could to bring you as much as we could. The Yearbook is one of those things that is heavily dependent on the participation of others, so no complaining if you weren't thrilled with what you saw. We busted our butts and besides this was a complimentary look behind the scenes.

Did you happen to catch some of the movie title references that were made in the text? If not, you'll have to look closer the next time, as this is a gift that keeps on giving. Oh yea and when you do the word search starting from the top left hand corner the remaining words spell out a message. I know, very fun! The excitement is almost too much to handle.

I hope everyone is succeeding or happy or happily succeeding. I figure if you are happy than that is success in itself.

Rock On!

Charisma
